

Abstract of Disclosure

Archery products have become more popular than ever, and the cost of these products
Has increased substantially, therefore trying to recover or retrieve some of these products
Such as the arrowhead can save the consumer money. So I invented an Arrowhead Extractor in hopes that a hunter can recover his or hers arrowhead if by chance it ended
Up embedded into a log or a tree.